Census 2021 and Your Project

The UK 2021 census was carried out around March 2021 for England, Wales and Northern Ireland. Unfortunately, due to the disruption caused by Covid 19, Scotland had to postpone their census by a year, it's also caused delays in the release of the data collected by the other countries too.

With data being made available for England and Wales, Ireland estimating a summer 2023 release, and Scotland looking like a 2024 release, what does that mean for mapping projects?

We have nearly finished the processing work for the England and Wales release which is scheduled for early June.

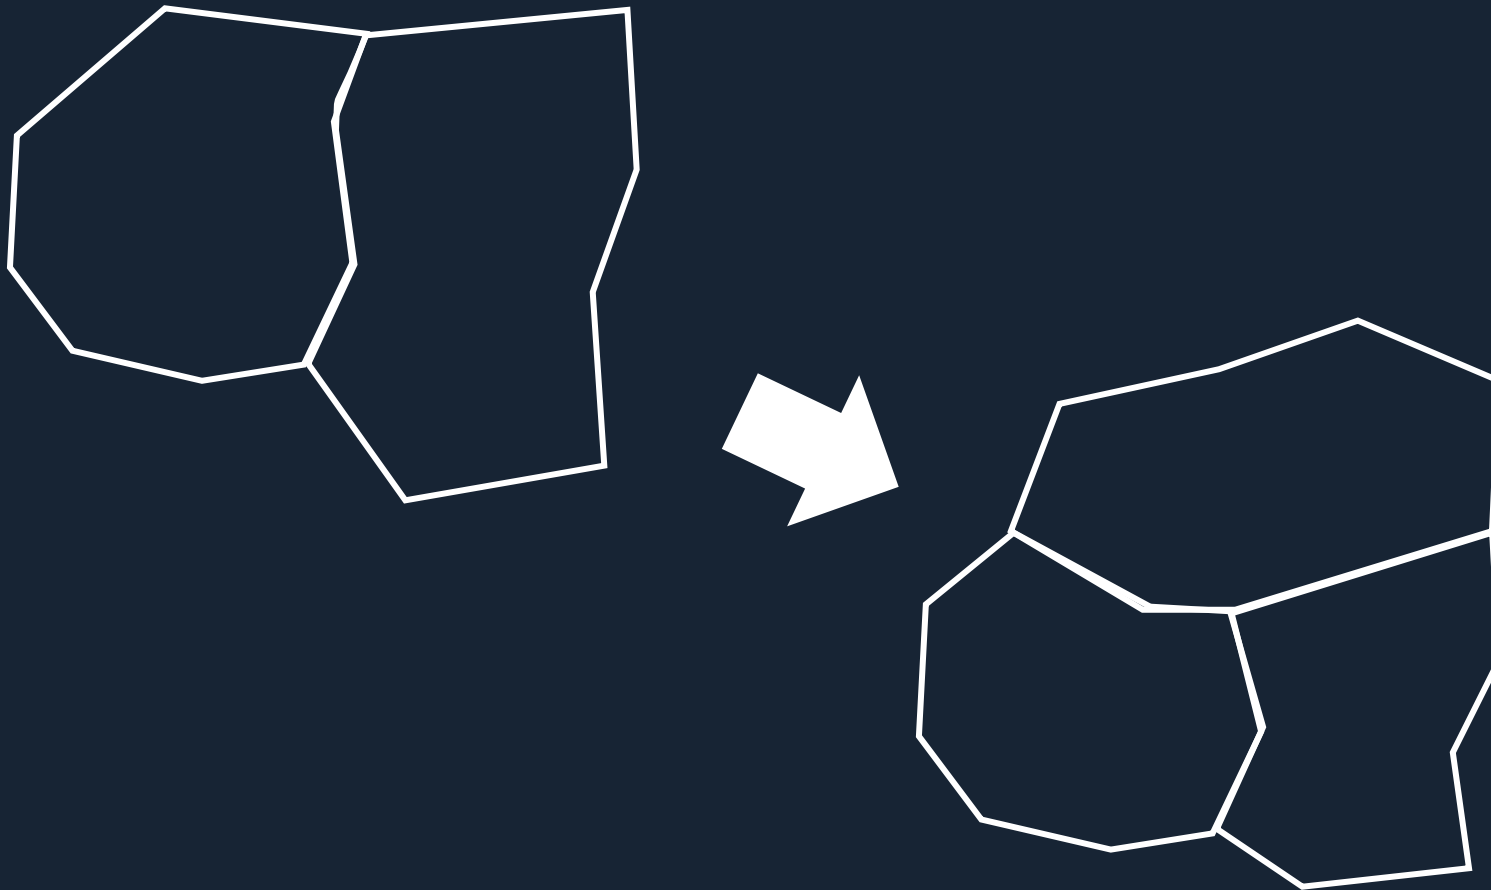

The current plan is to release the census in two main stages.

The first will include the Census 2021 data and geography for England and Wales. The second will be Scotland and Northern Ireland in early 2024.

That means that in the initial update, people wanting to use the England and Wales Census 2021 data, will have to continue using the 2011 data for Northern Ireland and Scotland.

There could be some smaller additional updates between these major releases for supplementary data and we'll provide information on these as and when they are available.

What Are Your Options? Project with follow on update – additional £800+VAT

We can carry out your project as normal and when the new census data is released, you can pay £800+VAT, and we'll go through your entire network and remap any areas where we can create extra territories or expansion areas that we feel work better for your network.

NOTE, in the initial release only the England and Wales data is being updated, which would only impact territories in those countries. Northern Ireland and Scotland remapping work would come at an additional cost when they become available.

Client A	Project 1
Client B	Project 2
Client C	Project 3
Client D	Project 4

If you would prefer to wait and have your project done once the new data has been released, then we would ask that you pay a deposit of £1,500+VAT and you'll then be added into the queue of projects that are scheduled to be carried out once the data is available. We'll let you know your queue position and estimate an approximate date that your project will be started and finished.
